INTRODUCTORY

1910

We present this, our thirty-eighth edition of the Minneapolis Directory, to our friends, patrons and the general public, with the utmost confidence in its worth as a work of reference, and as a true exponent of this great city concerning its population and business.

To our patrons who have made this work possible we express our thanks, and they deserve the thanks of every inhabitant of this great city, for a good directory is of the utmost importance to a city's welfare, but we wish also to congratulate them for, in exchange for their patronage, we have given them a representation and prominence over non-patrons which we feel is worth much more than the cost in every case.

We congratulate the people of our city on their prosperity which is evidenced on every hand, their immense new store and office buildings, some just finished, others nearing completion; the number of elegant flats and beautiful residences built in the past year to accommodate the increasing population and the figures which prove the ever upward growth of trade.

Minneapolis Flour Mills produced in 1909 15,120,000 barrels of flour.

Minneapolis Bank Clearings for 1909 footed $1,029,000,000.

Minneapolis Postoffice Receipts for 1909 footed $1,828,000.

Minneapolis Building Permits for 1909 numbered 6,046, amounting in value to $13,062,545.

These are tremendous figures, but they represent facts and speak for themselves.

This edition shows a very gratifying increase in population.

Our last book contained 140,760 names, which indicated a population of 316,710, while this volume contains 144,570, exclusive of deaths, removals and business firms, which, using our multiple of $2\frac{1}{4}$, indicates a present population of 325,282, a gain of 8,572 during the past year.

DAVISON'S MINNEAPOLIS DIRECTORY

Street and Avenue Guide

1910

EXPLANATORY.

The city is divided by the Mississippi river into parts known as West Division (W. D.), and East Division (E. D.) Avenues and streets in the E. D. are designated S. E. (southeast), N. E. (northeast), while all streets in the W. D. are designated N. (north), S. (south), E. (east), W. (West); Hennepin avenue to Superior avenue is the dividing line between north and south and Nicollet avenue from Grant street, the dividing line between east and west in W. D.

All streets south of Grant street, Kenwood Parkway and Superior avenue and running parallel therewith are designated E. when east of Nicollet avenue and W. when west of Nicollet avenue, while the avenues are all designated S. From Hennepin avenue up the river is N., and from Hennepin avenue down the river S.

Streets and avenues above Hennepin avenue are designated N. (north), and those below as S. (south). The same system pertains to the E. D. up and down the river, except numeral streets and avenues, which are marked N. E. above Central avenue and S. E. below Central avenue. The streets and avenues are distinguished in E. D. thus: S. E. 2d st.; N. E. 2d st.; 1st av. N. E.; 1st av. S. E.

Numerical streets in W. D. south of Hennepin avenue are designated S. from S. 1st to Grant st., they are then east and west of Nicollet avenue to 54th street. For example, E. 14th st. and W. 14th st., etc.

Numerical streets and avenues have a regular system of numbering, 100 being allowed to each block. For example, 600 1st avenue N. would be cor. of N. 6th st.; 729 1st avenue S., between S. 7th and 8th streets and near 8th street, and 600 S. 1st st., corner 6th avenue S.; 100 N. 6th street, corner 1st avenue N.; 100 E. 14th street, corner 1st avenue S.; 1300 E. 24th street, corner 13th avenue S.

Central avenue and Division street are the dividing line in the E. D. between N. E. and S. E. with the regular system of numbering on all numerical streets and avenues.
